Road Delegation

To Edmonton Return

The road delegation sponsored by the Oyen Board of Trade, interviewed Hon. O. L. McPherson, minister of public highways, at Edmonton, last Monday. Mr. Wm. Linklater of subbid, Mr. J. W. Robinson of Oyen and Mr. S. Gallekson of Excel, drove to Edmonton on Sunday with Mr. E. D. Thygeson, and returned last night. Other delegates were: Mr. A. B. Hughes, Cereal, Mr. L. S. Dawson, Chinook and Mr. E. Church, Youngstown.

Lorne Proudfoot M.L.A., introduced the delegation to the Minister, who outlined the program of road work now being undertaken by his department, and assured his visitors that the Golden Wheat Belt highway would be brought to an all weather standard within three years. Mr. J. W. Robinson of Oyen acted as spokesman for the delegation.

More Airports Needed

A coast to coast chain of airports across Canada is the suggestion of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, which is pressing for such action in the interests of Canadian aviation. The Chamber proposes that some of these airports be provided by the Dominion Government, in some cases where the local municipalities are not in a position to provide them, and where they are necessary for the transcontinental airway.

Most of the large cities in the country are now fairly well equipped with airports, but great distances separate them, and in the present stage of aviation it is felt that there is need for intermediate stations, if commercial aviation is to develop as it should.

Roads

We hear a lot of grumbling in the spring time and the fall, about our roads they are so bad in fact no roads at all. In summer we can't drive for dust, in winter time it's snow; I wonder where we have to go to find the roads "just so"? We have spent a lot of money in this wild and woolly west, to fix the roads up only to get them spoiled by wet. And then we blame our government and say, it's all in vain, they waste our money here and there by putting in a drain. We have thirty thousand cars or more their up-keep is a shame, because the roads won't hold them up when we have had some rain. We don't mind paying taxes when the money is well spent, not in useless wars and guns and fool experiments. Just build us roads so we can drive in summer spring and fall and it would give employment to all who hear work's call. For when there's lots of work to do we are happy and content, the best way and the cheapest is to gravel or cement. W. J. H.

Cappon Farmer Killed

William Smart Loses Life While Working on Abandoned Well

William Smart, a farmer of Cappon district, lost his life last Saturday morning, while working at an abandoned well on his farm. Assisted by C. Eldred, he was engaged in the work of withdrawing piping from an old well, when the rig they were using was jarred out of place and he was struck a terrible blow on the side of the head by the butt end of a tamarae pole. After receiving word of the accident Dr. McGregor, coroner, and Constable Green left for his farm and after obtaining particulars it was decided that a coroner's inquest was unnecessary.

Mr. William Smart, was born in Fifeshire, Scotland. He came to Canada 18 years ago, and was married at Waterhole in the Peace River country, in the fall of 1922, to Miss Bernice Ball, youngest daughter of Mr. H. J. Ball of Cappon, Alta. He is survived by his widow and five children, Glen, Donald, Howard, Daisy and Melvin.

A funeral service was held last Sunday at the late residence of Mr. Smart and interment followed at Latter Day Saints' cemetery, south of Oyen. Rev Robert Marles, of Cappon, officiating.

The Farm For The Farm Boy?

Every once in a while some pulman car philosopher comes along with a few suggestions on how to remedy the evils with which agriculture is supposed to be afflicted, and frequently winds up with a peroration containing some gratuitous advice to "keep the boy on the farm."

All of which might be all right if the itinerant solon were fully acquainted with the conditions of the country which he calmly surveys from the window, the conditions of the industry about which he deistically raves so freely, and the trend of the times, about which he may, or may not know anything. If, however, he were so well posted he would probably tell the newspaper reporters that he has "nothing to say on the subject today."

Now this question of "keeping the boy on the farm" is not a new one and it has a good many angles to it, some of which are well worthy of a little reflection by the individual before he decides whether the boy should be kept on the farm, and if so, how to go about it.

The first question that naturally arises is: "Should the boy be kept on the farm?"

This query opens a great realm of speculative thought and examination long before the sequel answer, "How is it to be done?" can be satisfactorily dealt with.

It can be said at the outset, without fear of contradiction, that not all boys are fitted for life on the farm, physically or temperamentally, despite the fact that the farm affords an outlet for the expenditure of a wide range of talents. To try and bind such youths down to a life with the soil is akin to shipping a consignment of flannel vests and fur coats to the niggers of Equatorial Africa, and about as useful.

And what about agriculture itself? Does agriculture need, and can it offer suitable reward and satisfaction to, all the boys who are born on the farms of Western Canada?

Here again is a question which has an important bearing on the problem of taking care of the future of the rural youth. Fifty years ago a single farmer could only raise enough produce to feed a handful of people. Today, with the use of highly mechanized and highly powered implements, one farmer can feed a host, and the trend in the direction of increasing the productive power of the individual in the realm of agriculture is neither recording a halt nor a swing in the other direction.

If science, combined with improved business management, is going to continue to widen the scope of the individual engaged in agricultural production, the time may come when a very considerable proportion of the lads reared on the land will have to look elsewhere for a vocation.

Then, even more than today, the question of determining the fitness, or otherwise, of the individual to the realm of agriculture is a matter which will assume a greater importance. As has happened in other industries in the flux of time and change, those best adapted by nature and preparation to agriculture will be those who will stay with the industry, and they only. The others will find other fields more suited to their talents and inclinations.

If the foregoing diagnosis of the trend of the times is correct, it is very fortunate that the Western Canadian provinces have within their borders an infinite variety of resources awaiting the application of the creative and courageous bred in our youths, for their recovery and conversion to the services of mankind.

It is also fortunate that coincident with this tendency to reduce the man power on the farm, a marked development is taking place in industrial life in the west which, along with the development of the resources already referred to, will afford an ever widening outlet for the energies of young manhood.

Progress has always been marked by evolutionary changes of this kind. Usually they bring discomfort to some, but this is inevitable. It is kind, then, to try to avert the forward march. The wistful attitude is to try and discern what present day trends may bring in the future and take advantage of the opportunities they may afford.

There are questions which, no doubt, are receding serious consideration by those responsible for the conduct of education in rural districts. The wistful attitude is not content with taking things as they are for granted, but is looking to the future where making adjustments which the necessity of tomorrow may dictate.

Will Study Canadian Method

Soviet Government Interested In Dr. Barnes' Ice Destruction Method

Dr. Howard T. Barnes is planning to go to Russia, for a two years' stay, if satisfactory arrangements can be made to take him there. The Canadian interests, he announces, a commission has been appointed by the Soviet Government for the study of Dr. Barnes' method of ice destruction and his personal supervision by the engineers in charge has been requested.

As Dr. Barnes now occupies only an honorary professorship at McGill University, Montreal, there will be no difficulty in that quarter, but he has a research institute of ice engineering in Montreal, and the appointment of a principal to replace him there is a duty that must precede his departure.

Value Of Timber Increased
Special timber cruises to establish the true value of timber holdings and the transfer from "wild land" to the timber land categories of certain areas in British Columbia have increased the assessed value from $18,822,927 in 1927, to $25,819,976 in 1928.

In Different Forms
A diamond, a lead pencil, and a piece of coal are made of the same stuff. These three things are really carbon in different forms, and are just as much water as ice, liquid water, and water vapor. All over the world we can find things which look very different, and yet actually, they are just one and the same thing in different forms.

Stunts Planned For This Year

One Man Plans To Walk Across English Channel

It looks as if 1930 is going to distinguish itself as a year of amazing stunts.

Herewith are just a few of the things that career men and women are planning to do during the summer.

Try an English gilder across the Irish Sea from Holyhead to Dublin. Walk across the English Channel on water boots.

Cross Niagara in a miniature submarine. Walk blindfold around the top of one of the tallest buildings in Britain.

A young airman, Mr. Alec B. Trafford, of Birmingham, is to attempt the dangerous feat of flying a glider across the Irish Sea. He has already had considerable experience in gliding in Germany, and is now at work on the machine with which he intends to make his big attempt.

The man who is hoping to cross the channel on water boots is Mr. J. Hazard, who has invented an ingenious device consisting of a pair of ordinary shoes attached to the tops of two airtight bags, which he inflates with a bicycle pump.

To help him in his 21-mile stroll across the waves he will use a pole attached to another inflated bag. He will obtain refreshment from a floating quick-release canister, to be established somewhere near mid-channel.—From Pearson's weekly.

PEOPLE "ALL NERVES"

What To Do If You Find Yourself In This Condition

The sort of thing that specialists call nervous debility is the run-of-the-condition caused by over-work and themselves worried. The sufferers find themselves tired, irritable, and unable to keep their mind on anything. Any sudden noise startles and sets the heart palpitating violently. They cannot sleep, and their hands tremble and legs seem stiff and difficult to support them. Such a condition is a terrible nuisance.

A Blind Soldier-Lawyer

South African War Veteran Practices Profession In Ontario

Those who know him well never think of Colonel Lorne McMulloy, blind South African war veteran as sightless. Colonel Mulloy, long known to the British and Canadian peoples as Trooper Mulloy, is an active law practitioner at Iroquois, Ontario.

His pleadings take place largely in Cornwall, and one recalls that the first lawyer he handled was as defending lawyer in a murder trial here.

When Colonel Mulloy came back from England after his Oxford studies, General Sam Hughes, then Canadian minister of marine and fisheries, had him appointed to a post in the Royal Military College where he remained several years.

He was used as a recruiting officer throughout Canada during the Great War.

Then he decided to study law, on the advice of his friend John Godfrey, K.C., of Toronto. The colonel read his law course in one year, which usually takes three years.

The Ontario Law Society called the distinguished soldier and scholar to the bar. He decided to adopt the name, which he knew from youth, and bought a fine old stone residence and garden on the banks of the St. Lawrence River at that place, choosing in which he directed himself.

Resting Place Of Statesmen

Lord Balfour's desire to be buried on his own estates recalls the variety of estates which he owned. He owned a large estate in Westminister Abbey, Bonar Law, a Presbyterian, and Gladstone, a convinced Anglican.

He was buried in the Abbey near Pitts, Peel and Palmerston—Anglicans all of the Balfour type. Disraeli preferred the church of St. Paul, Salisbury and Lord John Russell chose to lie with their ancestors rather than in the Abbey.

For Scalds Or Burns.—Dr. Thomas Electric Oil is a standard remedy for the prevention of scalds and burns. Its healing power quickly soothes the pain and aids a speedy recovery from the injury. It is also an excellent remedy for all manner of cuts, bruises and sprains, as well as for relieving the pains arising from inflammation of various kinds. A bottle in the house and stable saves many a doctor's and veterinary's fee.

A New Motor Disease

"Driver's heel" is the latest disease. Rough roads, requiring constant working of pedals and controls, are responsible for a new trouble, which can be very painful. Doctors with patients suffering from the new ailment are recommending that heel mats of some soft material should be provided by motor manufacturers, particularly for racing cars.

Why suffer needlessly? Douglas's Egyptian Liniment brings quick, sure relief to red, hot, stiff corns and warts. Relieves inflammation. Removes proud flesh.

Can Supply Canada's Needs

An investigation made by the Canadian Government of the output of Mines shows the sodium sulphate deposits in Saskatchewan containing over 100,000,000 tons of natural hydrous salt, enough to supply the Dominion's requirements and to furnish a surplus for export. One of the chief uses in Canada of this "salt cake" is in the production of sulphate or kraft pulp.

Peace Park At Border

Washington State School Children Subscribe Toward Its Establishment

Thirty thousand school children in the state of Washington, have subscribed ten cents each while their teachers have given twenty-five cents each, toward the purchase of 50 acres of land on the United States side of the border for the establishment of an international park, Blaine, on the International Boundary.

The Trades and Labor Council at Vancouver were told by a visiting delegation from Bellingham, Washington, of the donations. It would be the first international park in the world, the delegates said, urging that an equal amount of land be provided on the Canadian side.

If the same interest is taken on the Canadian side as on the United States side," it was stated, "the project will be a great success."

It was suggested that an annual celebration might be held by both countries at the park on the second of July each year.

Portland Balm preserves and enhances the skin, and makes it exquisite in texture. Delightful to use. Smooth and velvety. It imparts a new charm to every complexion. Indispensable to all dainty women. Since the stock market crash last October, none of these economic and financial wizards have ventured to cheer us up with the yarn that "good times are just around the corner." It seems that no one has any idea what's around the corner—and never did have.

BUDGET AD-APPTED BY MAJORITY OF TWENTY-EIGHT

Ottawa, Ont.—The final budget of the 18th Parliament of Canada passed the House of Commons by a majority of 28 votes. Two members of the Conservative Party and one member of the U.P.A. group voted with the government.

Supporters of the government lined up solidly behind the fiscal proposals brought down by Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Finance, May 1st.

The vote stood:

For the budget, 114.

Against the budget, 86.

Opposed to the budget were the members of the Conservative party with the exception of Fliley MacDonald, member for Cape Breton, South, and T. E. Simpson, member for West Alesbury. Both of these Conservatives represent constituencies in which the iron and steel industry is prominent. They had previously announced that they favored those provisions of the budget which considered advantages to their constituencies, and consequently they supported the government.

L. W. Johnston, Conservative member for Cape Breton, North-West, had previously announced that he favored provisions of the budget which he considered advantageous to the iron and steel industry. Being present, however, he did not vote.

L. J. Jeff, U.P.A. member for Lebridge, Alberta, supported the budget.

Crowded galleries looked down on the stirring scene which featured the final day of budget debate. Shortly after six o'clock the house had adjourned the sub-amendment and amendment to the budget which were offered by the Progressive group and the Conservative opposition respectively.

The sub-amendment, sponsored by W. R. Fausner, member for Last Mountain, Sask., was snuffed under a vote of 177 to 10. It entailed support came from the Progressive, U.P.A., and Labor groups in the house.

The Conservative amendment, which was moved by Hon. R. B. Bennett, Opposition leader, met with a similar fate by a majority of 80 votes. In this case the debate, however, was continued.

For the amendment, 64.

Against the amendment, 124.

Chinese Stage Battle

Survey Of Natural

Resources In B.C.

Information Is Being Sought On Peace River Block

Victoria, B.C.—Under an agreement between the British Columbia government and the Canadian government, the Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Pacific Railways, announced by Premier S. F. Timine, a systematic natural resources survey of the Peace River block, which would have been immediately carried on all summer.

The survey organization under Major C. R. Crysdale, which conducted the survey of the Peace River block last summer, will handle the Peace River block investigation.

The government and the two railways will share the cost of the work jointly as before.

We need the information on the Peace River block before we can intelligently deal with the future of this great area of about 5,000,000 acres," the premier announced.

SENATE AGREES ON RESOURCES BILLS FOR WEST

Ottawa, Ont.—It is not the intention of the government to proceed with the financial reconstruction of the Canadian National Railways this year, Hon. T. A. Cresser, Minister of Railways, told the parliamentary committee which examined the estimates of the National system here.

The government had proposed to introduce a bill dealing with the amalgamation of the various constituent companies, but no progress having been made previous to the Easter recess, the committee was doubtful if that bill would now be dealt with in view of the approaching dissolution of parliament.

"I frankly confess," said Mr. Cresser, "that, assuming my duties as Minister of Railways in February, I haven't been able to get a clear idea of what is involved beyond the fact that it is a tremendous task."

"I doubt if the amalgamation will now be proceeded with, but it should be done next session."

Sir Henry Thornton, president of the C.N.R., informed the committee that as far as the railway was concerned all the investigations had been made in connection with the financial reconstruction and the company's recommendations were ready.

Mr. Cresser, however, had had no opportunity to enquire into what was an exceedingly complicated problem. The situation now was one of simply determining what the government wanted to do. The executive of the C.N.R. had submitted their recommendations this year.

The problem of financial reconstruction had been under intensive study for the past six years and he did not suppose that any more complicated task had ever been undertaken on account of the large number of records, mortgages, securities of different terms and rates of interest. These had all been finally catalogued and straightened out. It was now at the pleasure of the government and the will of parliament.

The company itself was prepared to go on with the reconstruction of the re-financing scheme did not involve the disturbance of existing issues.

BRITISH PREMIER SATISFIED WITH NAVAL TREATY

London, England.—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald told the House of Commons the primary reason for the London naval conference was the program of naval construction.

"We were perfectly agreeable that the 'British' should hold the parity," said Mr. MacDonald, "but what had not been settled was: 'What was the program of parity?'"

"Many thought it was unnecessary to pursue the Washington agreement any further," continued the prime minister, "and they said: 'Why should we worry about the force America is putting upon the waters?'"

"While this view was most attractive it was very unsound."

"If the whole world occupied America the same happy relations that we did not, I think we would have a sound view, but, unfortunately, that was not the case. Whether we took notice of what America was doing or not, other nations would, and with the building of these other nations we were concerned."

"Consequently we were forced to the conclusion that the foundation of real security was an international understanding between America and ourselves, such as we were able to effect at the London conference. That piece of work has been done."

"The London conference would have been much greater if the London conference had not been from the beginning, only a three-power conference, which would have been a high seas conference, pure and simple, between the United States, Japan and ourselves."

"But Britain could not obtain security by an agreement between the three powers only."

"Washington, D.C., and two grey-haired admirals of the United States navy, each with upwards of a half-century of distinguished service behind him, disagreed pointedly over the merits of the naval treaty in London."

Sounding the first note of protest from any official quarter, Rear Admiral William B. D. Blandy, D.C., told the Senate foreign relations committee that he was not only disagreed with many of the details of the treaty, but that he was not in favor of the treaty itself.

At the same time Admiral William V. Pratt, commander of the battle fleet, was advising the Senate naval committee that the treaty suited him, that he was satisfied to have the treaty signed, and that the navy previously had asked that in any case the United States delegation at London got the best deal.

New Submarine Launched

Is First Of Its Class In The Royal Navy

Chatham, England.—The submarine, "Rainbow," 475 tons, first of her class in the Royal Navy, was launched. There are three other submarines of this class and 12 others on hand. This total of 16 being designed to replace 36 submarines which will automatically become obsolete by the end of 1932.

If no further submarines are laid down than these 16, the British submarine strength will be cut from 50 to 30 at the end of 1932.

The naming ceremony was performed by Mrs. Addison, wife of Vice-Admiral Addison, director of dockyards. After a religious ceremony, a bottle of Australian burgundy was broken over the prow of the vessel and she slid into her element.

No Change In Surveys

Ottawa, Ont.—Return of the natural resources to the western provinces, which is expected to bring an arrangement between the Dominion government and the provinces concerned regarding the continuation of the survey of the Prairie provinces, west is having no immediate effect upon the air fields of the government, for this year extensive plans are underway for the production of a series of wide areas all over the prairies.

Progress Of Canada As Seen Through Eyes Of Writer In New York Times

Arthur Elliot Sproule, writing in the New York Times says: "True though it be that we are all undoubtedly getting more and more internationally minded, yet the job is so enormous that, for most of us, only the very biggest foreign events seem able to catch our attention—great things like the naval conference in London and the Soviet attitude toward religion, for example."

So true is this that—possibly because our mental eyes get a trifle out of focus by looking at distant objects—we are often startled to find how little we are seeing of events that lie under our very noses, as it were.

Take Canada, for example. What do most of us know of this great and growing nation that stretches at our very doors. Its progress fully merits the word "astounding," and yet few Americans know anything about it. For instance.

The port of Halifax has increased its tonnage by 40 per cent. in twelve months. The port of St. John, ranking after Montreal and Vancouver in the amount of traffic handled, but first among Canada's winter ports, has the largest dry dock in the world. Moving west, Quebec produces 85 per cent. of the world's supply of asbestos. Water-power projects are being successfully brought into operation, and other great far-reaching changes have taken place.

Suppose you were asked to name the greatest port on the Atlantic Coast after New York—would you immediately answer "Montreal"? Yet it is a fact that the harbor of Montreal, 1,000 miles from the sea, is the second port on the North American Continent, New York only being greater. At St. Lawrence the canals carry more traffic than the Suez, Panama and Manchester Ship canals combined.

Winnipeg, the centre of the wheat country, has taken on added importance as the headquarters of a new mineral area, and it may well be that in the future the mineral products of the Province of Manitoba will vie for supremacy with the Province's enormous grain resources.

Further west again, Turner Valley, Alberta, has drawn the attention of all the world.

On the Pacific Coast, Canada possesses vast wealth, notably in the lumber resources, and there are vast gold mines in the mountains.

Passing to world trade, observe that Canada leads all other nations in the production of newspaper, nickel, asbestos and cobalt. She takes second place in the production of wheat and automobiles, and third place in the output of lead and gold. As an exporter she stands third among the nations of the world.

According to recently issued trade statistics for the year 1929, Canada holds fifth place in aggregate import and export trade, second place in export and total trade per capita, third place in favorable trade balance, and second place in favorable trade balance per capita.

There is no need to be wondrous, but it is surely well to face even a few salient facts such as the foregoing. We have quite a neighbor up north!

Huge Bridge Nearing Completion

The bridge over the harbor at Sydney, Australia, is nearing completion. The structure, costing $20,000,000, has a span of 1,850 feet, and accommodates a roadway 57 feet wide, four electric tracks and two ten-foot footways. It is estimated that changes in temperature will cause a maximum expansion of 14 feet.

The bridge is the world's largest of its type.

Wonder will this reformed calendar they're talking about, be so fixed that a fellow won't get his tax bill just when he's saved up enough money to have the house painted?

PRETTY HOUSEWARE

All Tingley models are created in Paris and sketched by her there. The patterns are made and adapted for American women in New York by American patternmakers.

Fashion seldom varies in her affection for spots. They make so fresh and trim an effect. They are chic, too, and add an air of charm to the simplest of models.

White spots on a blue ground were chosen for this attractive housecoat. The trims were white.

The neck line merging into two front slimmings effect, which is helped still by slight shaping of the lower skirt section gives grace and fire to the model.

Other schemes besides spots could, of course, be used for this model. Plaid, checks, stripes and flowered patterns with contrasting trims would all be good. Almost all standard washing cottons are suitable. Washing silks and rayons can also be used.

This pattern may be obtained in sizes 16 to 20 and 24 to 42. It is laid out for immediate delivery. It is hand cut.

Pattern price 25 cents. Be sure to fill in size of pattern. Address Pattern Department.

Large Flock Of Swans Seen

Regina Man Reports Seeing About Eighty At Saskatchewan Beach

An unusually late sight was witnessed recently by a Regina man, J. G. McKee, when he watched a flock of 70 or 80 swans sweep down from the sky and alight on the water near him, little a great bottle of milk. Mr. McKee, who has lived in the west 38 years, says that never before had he seen any of these creatures during the annual migration to or from their Arctic breeding grounds. Yet the swan is by no means uncommon during these periods.

When he noticed the flock first he took the birds for geese, then for pelicans, but as they circled rapidly around in the form of a crescent and alighted practically as one, his doubts were removed as to their being swans. They were about the size of pelicans. None of the birds showed any uneasiness at the presence of the boat, and swam about on the smooth surface of the lake quite unconcernedly.

Mr. McKee described the call as most peculiar, calling and answering each other almost like a dog barking, but hoarser. This raised the question among some of those interested in bird lore as to what species of swans did these migrants belong to.

Unless there is indisputable evidence to the contrary, the only swan likely to be seen in these parts, or anywhere else in Canada for that matter, is the mallard. This is a larger relative, the magnificent trumpeting swan, is now on the verge of extinction, and few have ever seen it in life. Yet the call heard by Mr. McKee did not appear to fit the whistling swan so closely as that ascribed to the trumpeter.

Ornithologists who have been queried on the matter were, however, frankly skeptical, doubting if as many as 70 trumpeting swans existed in all Canada.

Canadian Steamer Was First

Crossed Atlantic In 1833 Without Using Sails

Although some records state the first steamship crossing of the Atlantic was made in 1819, it is believed that a Canadian built ship, sailing from a Canadian port, first made the entire voyage under steam, some years later.

Though nominally steamers, such as the Queen, were not used entirely on sails, when crossing the ocean, the engine, at a low rate of speed, being used only when head winds prevailed. This manner of navigating the long distance was a practice for a number of years.

In 1833, the "Royal William," 800 horse-power, and 1,000 burden, was built at Three Rivers, Que., on the Lower St. Lawrence, for the purpose of plying between Nova Scotia and Corvo, Isle of Wight. She is believed to be the first ship to make the entire voyage across the Atlantic by steam. The occasion marked a new era in trans-oceanic communication, introducing a more powerful and faster class of boat, relying on the use of steam for motive power.

When Motorist Should Rest

No Man Has Right To Drive When He Becomes Drowsy

Although the busy motorist season has just started, the first accident caused by a driver falling asleep at the wheel has been reported. Three New York motorists were injured when a car driven by a man so exhausted that he fell asleep at the wheel went into a ditch.

This is the kind of accident that should never happen. No man has any right to drive a car when he is in such a condition that he is apt to become drowsy. Common sense should tell any car driver when he is nearing the limit of endurance, and he should then be prepared to sacrifice time for safety by pulling off the highway and sleeping for a sufficient length of time to rest his faculties. It might mean the difference of a few hours in reaching his destination, but on the other hand it might mean the difference between reaching his destination and not reaching it at all.

Work Should Be Made As Easy As Possible

When building a poultry house it is a matter of importance to see to it that it is not only located at a point easy to reach, but also that it shall be so arranged that the work of attending to the birds be made as easy as possible. The more convenient it is to do the work about the poultry house the surer it is that it will be done.

As the women of the farm usually look after the poultry, the work should be made as easy as possible. If the distance to be covered in going back and forth to the poultry house is twice as far as it need be the amount of extra walking thus involved may have the effect of adding drudgery to the task. The new bulletin No. 132, of the Department of Agriculture, at Ottawa, "Poultry House Construction," goes fully into the question of planning, and makes the observation that not only should the house be accessible, but the internal arrangement ought to be such that the work may be done with the least amount of labor. Among other suggested conveniences is the gate that swings both ways. The feeder may be carrying two pails of water or feed, a gate that swings either way may be opened without stopping to set down the pails. A narrow road of gravel, or the laying of a plank will enable one to pass over a wet place dry-shod.

Another recommendation is the providing of a feed box in which supplies may be kept close to where they are needed. In poultry keeping, as in other farm work, labor is an important item, and in the building and equipping of a poultry house every consideration should be given to means that may be taken to reduce labor.

Land In Good Shape

Irrigated Area In Southern Alberta In Fine Condition

Irrigation carried out during 1929 was the biggest in the history of Southern Alberta, and as a consequence the land is in fine condition now, according to P. Jennings, supervisor of irrigation in the Calgary district office of the Dominion Water Power and Reclamation Branch. "Without exception, all the large irrigation projects in Southern Alberta used large quantities of water last fall," he said, "and in consequence their irrigated lands were in good condition this spring."

The Mohammedan Law
Egyptian Judge Rules Women Do Not Have To Be Educated
Girls having equal opportunity with their brothers for a public school and even a college education, should be thankful they live in a country of religious liberty, says a newspaper writer.

A mother in Cairo, Egypt, petitioned the court for an order compelling her husband to make financial provision for their daughter's education. The judge declined to issue the order on the grounds that Mohammedan law does not require a Moslem to educate the women of his family, and adds as his personal opinion that women should not be educated.

The Cairo judge, who places mental subjection, the most abject form of slavery, on a sex basis, would find himself sitting on a keg of dynamite instead of a bench in lands of growing sex equality.

The ideal state is the one in which individuality for public service would be limited only by the ability of the individual to perform such service.

Miss Constance A. Harvey, of Buffalo, newly appointed foreign secretary, is assigned to Ottawa as American vice-consul. Miss Harvey received her appointment as the result of an examination which inquired into the matter of mental fitness, not of physical conformation.

Five Powers Sign Reparations Plan

Commissions Disappears and World Bank Will Soon Be in Action
The Young plan for payment of reparations, reducing Germany's obligations for damages caused during the world war from something like $25,000,000,000 to about $10,000,000,000, has gone into effect.

A protocol registering the decision of the League conference, which adopted the plan January 2, was signed by the ambassadors of Great Britain, France, Italy, and the French Minister of Foreign Affairs, after a tea served by the French Foreign Minister, Aristide Briand.

The first consequence of this act, which modifies for a second time the reparations machinery provided by the Versailles treaty, will be the disappearance of the reparations commission which, in co-operation with other bodies, has taken charge of payments under the Dawes plan.

The second will be the beginning of functioning by the bank for international settlement at Basel, Switzerland.

The third will be the issuance of $100,000,000 in reparations bonds, two-thirds of that going to creditor nations and the other third to Germany for internal requirements.

Rewarded By Admiralty

Englishman Gave Valuable Information Regarding Movement Of Enemy Ships
A woman who sat for four hours by her telephone transmitting to Admiral Sturdee's headquarters, which proved of great importance, in the battle of the Falkland Islands, arrived in London, England, recently, with her husband.

She is Mrs. Creamer, formerly Mrs. R. S. Peiton, the daughter of an English professor, who settled in the islands, which are about two hundred and fifty miles from the mainland of South America.

Mr. Creamer told a press representative the story of his wife's presence of mind and initiative which resulted in the sinking of three German ships, and earned for her a silver salver, which was presented by the admiralty, and the Order of the British Empire.

"On December 8, 1914," Mr. Creamer said, "my wife was at home, in her flat, at Finsbury, with her three children, two maids, and a boy servant. Her maid reported to her that they had seen from a hill near by three German ships making for Finsbury."

"Two of these were the Baden and Santa Isabel. The third vessel is believed to have been the Sedition—either a hospital ship or a transport. "She immediately ordered the maid to saddle two horses and to ride in relays to the top of the hill, and report to her every few minutes the ships' movements. Meanwhile, she telephoned to the authorities, at Stanley, and her reports were rushed to Admiral Sturdee."

"She sat there for four hours, with her baby boy in her arms, while her messages directed the movements of "British" and of the armed liner "Macdonald," which set out in pursuit of the Germans."

"The enemy tried to steam at full speed for safety, but the information which reached Admiral Sturdee, minute by minute, enabled the British to follow them. In a few hours, the "British" and the "Macdonald" had caught and sunk the ships."

Rivalry In Building

Plans Ayr Frequently Changed After Construction Has Started

The race to see which country shall build the largest ocean liner suggests the competition in New York to erect the highest skyscraper. It is known that plans for the construction of the new ship are now being changed. The construction skyline, were successfully altered, even after construction had begun, in the light of news of competitors' intentions.

According to word from London, the White Star Line has adopted an entirely new set of designs for its giant "Oceanic," which is to be of 65,000 instead of 60,000 tons as originally planned. It will be the world's first 1,000-foot vessel. The "Maquet," now the longest at 815 feet. The "Leviathan" is 807, but the "Leviathan II. and III." to be built by the United States Lines, will be 905.

Proved Her Greatness

Late Emmeline Pankhurst Was Martyr To Good Cause

What remains unforgettable is that in her own person Emmeline Pankhurst bore the burden of a martyrdom that would be incredible to us today if we failed to realize that it happened in another world because she helped to make it so. Whether she addressed thousands from the platform or led twelve women into the horrors of Parliament Square, whether she marched at the head of a procession five miles long, or fought single-handed the dark solitude of her prison cell, she gave always that impression of greatness which is inseparable from possession of unshakable confidence and invincible courage, and which makes the martyr of all the ages.

She—"Now that we're engaged, dear, you'll give me a ring, won't you?"
He—"Yes, certainly, darling. Er—what's your number?"

Golden Text: "Take ye heed, watch and pray: ye know not when the Son of man is to come."—Mark 13:33.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 65:1-3, 6-8.

Explanations and Comments

The Parable of the Wise and Foolish Virgins, 24:1-13. The Parable of the Ten Virgins, 24:14-19. The Parable of the Sheep and Goats, 25:1-13. The Parable of the Talents, 25:14-30. The Parable of the Pounds, 25:31-46.

While the bridegroom tarried they all slept. There is no hint of reproach in this statement: the bridegroom might tarry a long time. Midnight came, and the approach of the bridegroom was announced. All the virgins arose and trimmed their lamps. The foolish ones then found themselves without oil, and begged the wise ones to share with them their oil. But the wise ones refused, for they might not be asked for them all, and counselled them to go and buy oil.

While the foolish virgins went forth to buy oil, the bridegroom came, and those that were ready went in with him to the marriage feast. A little later the foolish virgins arrived and begged to have the door opened. "Verily I say unto you, I know not you," was the only answer they received.

Watch, therefore, for ye know not the day nor the hour. Be not found unprepared. "It is not enough to have a will to be a while, but to have, in addition, a perseverance that never tires."—Calvin.

A Growing Industry

Production From Inland Fisheries In Manitoba Shows Great Gain
While agriculture, the basic industry of Manitoba, together with manufacturing, mining, and other industries has advanced substantially in the province in recent years, the production from the inland fisheries has probably shown the greatest gain.

In the past five years the fisheries production has increased more than 100 per cent. In 1924 the market value of the fish caught in Lake Winnipeg, Manitoba, Winnipegosis and other lakes was $1,232,000, while last year it was $2,034,000. In 1920 the commercial fishermen of the province caught 33,000,000 pounds of fish, a record for Manitoba, with a market value of $2,034,000.

Vancouver Port Busy
Commercial shipping entering the Port of Vancouver during March showed marked activity, the net tonnage being about a million. The movement showed 1,800 arrivals with a tonnage of 966,283. Deep sea arrivals totaled 108, with a net tonnage of 43,855.

Sentry Receives $200,000 For Saving Life Of Prince Alti Belgrade

One of King Alexander's gigantic guardsmen recently was given an indefinite leave of absence after receiving a reward of 100,000 dinars (nearly $100,000), for having quite inadvertently saved the life of the 2-year-old Prince Tomislav, the second son of the king.

The Prince was playing in the apartments of his mother, Queen Marie, on the second floor of the palace, at Belgrade, when suddenly he fell from a window. The sentry, who was passing at the moment, raised the full weight of the child on his shoulders. The Prince clutched the sentry around the neck and slid to the ground unharmed, but the sentry was knocked unconscious and crumpled to the ground.

"Oh, Grandma! You might have made him angry."

"Not Gam Garfield. He likes to make believe he's stern, but he's real good-natured underneath. He laughed I guess he forgot he was a lawyer with an important case. And then he sat right down where you are, child, and said: 'It's you who ought to be spanked, Grandma Davis. You charged my client ten dollars for a string of beads that's worth about ten cents.'"

"Ten dollars?" gasped Charmian. "What an idea! But you did charge too much, Grandma, and—"

"I never heard there was a law to keep a body from getting as much as he could in a trade," interrupted the old lady. "I said as much to Gam, and he had to admit that the law was on my side—considering. And I told him, too, that if Edgar Purdie said he paid ten dollars for those beads, why he was a liar on top of all his other sins. I was real indignant."

Troubled though she was, Charmian couldn't suppress a laugh at the picture Grandma's words brought up.

"I guess he saw I was kind of riled," went on the old lady, "because he said, 'Don't you worry.

READ OF A CASE LIKE HER OWN

Decided to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Moncton, New Brunswick—"Before my last baby was born I was very weak, nervous and died. I saw an advertisement for an advertisement for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took three bottles and it carried me safely through that critical time. I have three children to care for and I feel well and strong. I have told two other women about your medicine."—Mrs. G. A. Anderson, 81 Albert Street, Moncton, New Brunswick.

Grandma. I won't let you get into any trouble if I have to commit perjury myself to prevent it; but what did the deacon pay for those darn beads?"

"Did you tell him?" asked Charmian breathlessly.

"I did; but not till I'd asked if he was making a social call or one in the interest of his client. He grinned and said, 'You ought to have been a lawyer yourself, Grandma Davis; but I'm just dropping in to pass the time of day with an old friend.' So I told him the whole story, Charmian. Honestly, child, I thought he'd have hysterics. There wasn't a shred of dignified lawyer left in him when I got through."

"But what's he going to do?" "It don't make no difference to me what he does, so long as he's not dragged in; and we won't be, or I don't know Gam. He said, confidentially, he thought when the deacon closed up a little, and he pointed out the big expense of a law suit, that it would all be settled out of court. Just now Edgar's mad clean through. He says Luella's the only woman he ever proposed to that refused him, and claims that she led him on something scandalous."

"Well, dearie, maybe you'd better get to some other case. It's been an exciting morning and I feel all gone. On top of everything else there was a fearful cat fight in Lizzie Baker's yard. I could hear the yowls as loud as if they were in this room. They'd be at it now if George K. Knowles hadn't come along and turned Lizzie's nose on 'em. And there are folks who say that nothing happens in Wickfield!"

Charmian laughed as she went toward the kitchen, glad there was enough excitement on hand to keep Grandma from asking too many questions about her ride with Jim; but as they were finishing their meal the old lady queried suddenly: "Did you enjoy your ride? And did you get my catalogue from Emmy?"

"Oh, dear!" cried Charmian, "I left it in the car."

"That's no matter," responded Grandma comfortably. "If Jimmy finds it he'll bring it round to-night. Like as not he'll be glad of an excuse to come. But Emmy say what she was ordering?"

"A hat," smiled Charmian. She's never going to be outdone by Clara Darling."

"Do tell," ejaculated Grandma. "Did she show you the picture, dearie? There were some awful pretty ones on page fifteen. What color will it be? Green doesn't go with most of Emmy's things."

Charmian laughed.

"It's possible, you know, to buy something other color, even by mail. I didn't see the picture. Grandma. It was Jim who went in, and Emmy asked his advice about it."

"Then he can show me which one it is when he brings the catalogue. Emmy's not liable to be extravagant; but it does seem risky getting a hat clear from Chicago. It might get mashed in the mail, and then where's she be? Maybe that's Jimmy now. There's an auto stopping. If 'tis you call him in, dearie, so he can show me."

"That you, Jim?" called Charmian, half rising as the front door opened. "Come in a moment. Grandma wants you."

Jim, who had eaten hastily and was on his way back to the bank, obeyed willingly enough. He had the bulky catalogue under his arm, and though he smiled at Grandma's eyes shifted to Charmian, as if to discover if she looked more cheerful than when he left her.

"You sit down," commanded Grandma. "I guess George K. can run the bank without you for ten minutes. Draw up a chair. I want you should show me the hat that Emmy Bascomb's been fool enough to order without first seeing the quality."

"Good thunder!" objected Jim, "this book is three hundred and fifty pages thick! How'm I to find—"

"The hats begin on page fifteen," broke in Grandma. "They look real pretty in the pictures; but I've never seen but one mail order hat, and except for making a good deal of commotion around town—"

"Grandma," Charmian interrupted

sternly, "I've got a notion that Jim is sick and tired of hearing about that hat. Let him alone. He's got a right to admire a green hat if he wants to. The truth is, I liked it myself!"

"You did?" gasped Grandma, astonished; while Jimmy laughed, the first real laugh of the day—for him. For a moment his eyes met Charmian's with their old twinkle, then returned to the book, and he said dubiously:

"It must be this one. I remember it kind of hung down one side, and had a red rose on the other."

"What, it says, sonny. I haven't got my glasses."

Jim obeyed, reading with mock solemnity: "A dreary model with soft, girlish lines that you will simply adore. The trim is of two colors of dainty lace-patterned straw. Colors: black with a red rose; meadow with sand; golden blue with crab apple. Price only one-fifty-nine. Shipping weight two pounds." That sounds pretty swell," Grandma doesn't it? Emmy was hovering between the black with the red rose, and the blue with the crab apple or carvols. I gave her a shove toward the blue, and ran, or she'd still be asking my assistance. Now I must skip, or George K. will ask me to be absconded with his interest money."

Again his eyes sought Charmian's, but at the mention of interest, her face hardened, and she turned away. A moment later the whirl of an engine told her that Jim had gone, and Grandma said, lifting her head from the gaily colored page: "Seems as if that hat would be a little wide in the beam for Emmy; but you never know what a hat until you try it on. I think she's running a terrible risk, though they do say, 'money refunded if not satisfactory.' Still, they might make a fuss if she sent it back. Business men are hard-hearted to deal with—that is, some of 'em are, though Father always said there were exceptions."

"I'd like to find one, then," said Charmian, half rising as the front door opened. "Come in a moment. Grandma wants you."

CHAPTER XIV.
It was with a very genuine glow of happiness that Charmian learned that the school board had given her "District Four." Some years had passed since she graduated from State Normal School—years when she seemed bent for her to stay with Grandma; but she had been unable to keep the old house in repair, the girl realized that something must be done, and to get the school only a mile from her own door was a vast relief.

Prince Knows Empire Well

Completed Ninth Tour When He Returned From South Africa

On descending from the sky into Windsor Great Park, the Prince of Wales had completed the ninth of his foreign and Empire tours. In 1919, just after the war, he came to Canada and the United States. In 1920, he went to Australia; in 1921-22 to India and Japan; in 1923 to Canada again; in 1924 to the United States; in 1925 to Africa and South Africa. In 1927 to Canada; and in 1928-29 to Africa, the last trip being cut short by the King's illness and completed this year. In this last trip he has traversed Africa from Cape Town to Cairo. He is the most travelled of Princes, the most travelled of world citizens. He has seen more of the earth-grinding Empire, over which he will one day rule, than any of his future subjects. Which is as it should be, for under the British constitution the King and Emperor who is well informed regarding his widespread domains is often able to offer wise advice to his ministers.

"Behold I stand at the door and knock."—Revelations II. 20.

Open the door with shame if you have sinned.

If you be sorry, open it with sigh; Albeit the place be bare for poverty, And comfortless for lack of plenty.

Be not ashamed for that, but open it. And take Him in that comes to sup Himself—can open that door from the outside. Only the soul itself can open itself. But, with perfect simplicity and unfeignedness, any one of us is able to just put aside the bolt of his own willfulness and open his door and say, "Almighty God, come in to me: Spirit of Christ, be Thou my Guest; Father, I have sinned, forgive me!" then it is as if the sharper days of winter were melting into the approaching spring; and as if one of those downy morn'g in the spring, heated houses, and should throw his door open to the gentle air, and there should flow in upon him the milder freshness and the purer fragrance of a renewing and reviving word."

Francis C. Peabody.

STRONGER TOUGHER SAFER

HERE'S good news for you -- Firestone Tires are even safer, tougher, and stronger than ever before! Greater non-skid life -- deeper, quicker action tread -- more contact with the road -- more rubber between the plies. These new advantages give you even more mileage and greater safety.

And only in Firestone Tires do you receive the advantages of Gum-Dipping -- the EXTRA process by which every cord is saturated with rubber to eliminate internal friction -- the greatest enemy of tire life.

Specify Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires on your new car or make your present car a better one by equipping with Firestones. See the Firestone Dealer today -- he serves you better and saves you money.

? Are YOUR Children PROTECTED? ?

During the Year 1928

DIPHTHERIA Was Responsible for 50 Deaths

and

TYPHOID FEVER Was Responsible for 28 Deaths of Alberta Citizens

[94 Per Cent of the deaths from DIPHTHERIA occurred among children under 15 years of age]

There Need Not Be a Single Death in the Province, from Diphtheria, Typhoid Fever nor Small Pox

Science has placed in our hand the means of wiping these preventable diseases out of existence.

The vaccines required for this purpose are furnished FREE OF CHARGE to all physicians and local Boards of Health in the Province by the Provincial Department of Health.

It is the duty of local Boards of Health to prevent epidemics starting, and the most effective method of doing this is to Protect the Children of Our Province from these Preventable Death-Dealing Diseases

What has been done for the protection of the children of YOUR community?

Is YOUR community safe for your children?

The Provincial Department of Health issues Bulletins and pamphlets giving information and advice on how to secure a large measure of health and how to safeguard life in your community. Copies of these publications may be obtained on application to the Department.
